“ To my favorite sister, you will be missed. You were very special to me, and I carry many memories with me about the times we shared together. As teenagers, we wore each other's clothes and Mom always said "the first one out was dressed the best." We attended different high schools, not by choice, but because the county lines were changed so when I went to high school I had no choice so ended up at the rival school where I was a cheerleader, and Marlene was a majorette at the rival school. What fun at our house when the football teams played each other, Marlene marching with her school's band and me cheering for my team. After a week or so, we were fighting over who was wearing what, and when. I will miss you but know you're happy with the love of your life, Blair. Say hi to Earl and most of our family and relatives, love and miss you all until we meet again.

“ I am saddened to hear of this. So many memories of years gone by having worked with Marlene at Kissell Company. An amazing lady. My thoughts to her family.
