“ Mr. Morter coached the gymnastics team, at least one of my years. It's possible that there would not have been a team if he hadn't stepped up to coach. I'm thankful to see that he had a good life, doing important work. May his memory be a blessing.

“ Mr. Morter was one of the people who made an impression on my life as my coach, teacher, and the person who told me what I needed to hear, not what I wanted to hear. When I started at Colonel White freshman year and joined the Tennis Team he said "I know you...who is your family?" and he was correct, I was "one of those Bowmans". He did in fact know my family who went to school with him at Stivers where he played baseball and I am sure was actively involved in antics with my uncles and told me how he picked on my mother who was their little sister. It was clear from there Tennis & Softball were on the books for me! He was always there for his students. His outreach and generosity to so many of us, taught us all empathy and kindness and to lose the judgement. And he tough on us as a coach - sorry but looking back it was funny when you would throw things at our softball games...years later of course (Don't be mad Mr. M). When I lost my mother he showed up - he came to the service and quite literally at one point held me up. I was just talking to Julia about how we always thought in our adult life we would get to see him and tell him where life has taken us, and he would ultimately be proud of us all, as he helped to create the strength and determination in all of his students and athletes which has taken all in so many places. I must also mention it was fun that he would occasionally let us sneak into his class while skipping another to play Oregon Trails, thank you for all of those passes! I am beyond grateful to the Morter family for sharing him with his students - my heartfelt condolences are with you all and it will be our time to be there for you in October. You will be in my prayers, what an incredible life he led! Thank you Mr. Morter for everything!
