“ Bob was a member of our little high school drummer group with Fred Charavay, John Switzer and me. He always had an infectious laugh and the rest of us liked to "pull his chain". He always allowed us this gesture of camaraderie with a smile and a chuckle. I had the pleasure of seeing him at our 40th and 50th class reunions and that impish personality was still evident in that grown man. Will never forget him.

“ Here’s to one of the greatest scouters I know. You had a great legacy and impact on scouting which many of us hope to emulate. I can’t even imagine the great things you will be doing now.
