“ Willard, we called him by his middle name, was a great big old teddy bear.

First met him just after I married his cousin, Bill. We were living in an apartment in Paintsville, Ky., he came by to visit with Bill. After visiting for a bit he started to leave, got to the door and stood and talked for a couple of hours, left close to daylight.

He also stayed with us a couple of times, man could he snore, rattled the windows. Kinda of like in an Elmed Fudd cartoon exhale and the blanket would roll down inhale and blanket would roll back up.

Introduced him to my younger sister, Lou Alice they hit it off and were married shortly afterward. He was 6 ft and she was 5 ft, Mutt and Jeff.

Once told him with a little more effort he could be really grumpy, really Barb was his reply, and chuckled about it.

But, he could come to rescue when we got lost on a trip to Ohio. Just grinned and led us out.

Will certainly miss the old Bear.

Prayers for all

Love you guys.
