“ I worked with John several years ago. He was always eager to help and share some funny words when the mood needed to be lifted. I recall many lunches with him where he entered the whole table (plus the servers) with jokes and good times. I hope that his memory, and light hearted nature, live on through us all. I look back fondly on the time I shared with him and will miss being able to joke with him again. Rest easy, friend.

“ John and I worked together several years ago. He was always so much fun! He talked about his beloved nieces and nephews a lot - they gave him lots of joy! He always had a good book to recommend and share. I am so sad to hear of his passing.

“ Oh boy. John was a dirty old man in a good guys body. Smart as a whip and dumb as a box of rocks. His mind set was just get it done son, you aren't building a Rolex. Rules are definitely intended to be broken. Be bold and break them. He introduced me to Thai food, sushi and (lol) large hot sake (2 please). I will miss him

John was my buddy with the bad jokes. He had a big heart and always ready to share a kind word followed up with a bad joke. He was a good guy who always treated me with respect. I will truly miss him. Gone too soon.
