“ My mother was a wonderful woman. I love her very much. I will miss her every day. A few years after the death of my father, she found and married John Davenport. I'm so grateful for him, he raised me and I consider him to be my dad. My mother worked hard to provide me with a great childhood. We usually went on six weeks of vacation every year. We went to most of the races at Michigan international speedway every year. Her favorite driver was Richard Petty. My mother would not put up with people that disrespected her or her children. I saw her go off on anyone who thought she was a pushover. I consider her to be the greatest influence on my life. I had a hard time with her being able to read me like a book, she always knew what was going on in my life without a word. June Davenport's son forever Keith McAra.

The greatest gift is love. I reflect on my mother's love for her children. A very deep warm affection that I will forever miss. Many memories and laughter and joy with the family. I won't ever forget her gigantic smile and warm hugs. A loved mother she was Nancy J. Williams
