“ I had the opportunity to serve as a missionary in Nevada at same time as he did, not together but knew him. He was a tease at times. But a great example to the new missionary. So I want to say THANK YOU to Wayne. May we all recognise this of him the follower of the greatest teacher. So God Be With You Till We Meet Again at Jesus Feet, my good brother and God Bless.

“ I served with Elder Kenneth Wayne Campbell as an LDS Missionary in Kingman AZ and Las Vegas, NV many years ago. He was a great friend, companion and especially missionary during that time. He loved the people we served and those he served with and they loved him as well. I will remember forever the time we served together. His commitment to sharing the gospel, helping others and his always constant smile and positive outlook were an inspiration to me and those around us.

I was saddened to hear of his passing, but as I looked at a few pictures from that time I was reminded of the great friend and missionary he was.

I am confident he was called home by his Heavenly Father to continue to assist serving others. Though his absence is filled with grief for those left behind, be assured you will yet see him again and enjoy his company.

Elder Kenneth Wayne Campbell and me alongside our mission car (we wish) in Las Vegas. He could never walk by a nice car without taking a second look.

“ When I was a little girl my even littler brother Wayne fixed my bicycle chain every time it broke and patched my tires. The little boy was born to be "the man" always taking care of everyone around him and he did it until he literally could not lift his arms any longer. He was a shining example. Even now i know he is watching over his beloved Pam and children and grandchildren. Shine on, Wayne. Shine on
