“ I remember my Dad showing me how to put a nail in a wall to hang a picture up correctly and to put a screw in correctly so you didn't strip it. I didn't appreciate until I had a friend who's pictures fell down and stripped screws while putting together a side table. Thanks Daddy for taking the time to teach me correctly. Love and miss you. “ Every time I came home, he always had to come over and show me pictures of his grandkids and tell me all about them and his kids. He was very proud of them. Goodbye Mr. Hoover. I'll miss you.
