“ Heidi, Curt & Meagan - I'm so sorry for your loss. I just thought I'd share my first memory of Ryan. It was when I was babysitting for him and he was about 2 years old. I was still asleep when he woke up and he came into the room where I was sleeping. Before I could get up I heard him singing "B-I-N-G-O". I pretended I was still sleeping to see if he would finish the whole song. He climbed up in the bed and sat next to me and was singing in my ear while he thought I was asleep and I couldn't help but to bust out in laughter before he finished the whole song. He was such a cute sweet little boy and that is always how I will remember him. - Faith

“ I live across the street from Ryan's grandparents, Don and Ava Blair, in Williamsburg, Ohio. When my two grandsons were here, from Puerto Rico during the summer months and if Ryan was here spending time with his grandparents, they would fish together, in our pond, in front of the house. We have a small dock, and I remember looking out the window and seeing Ryan talking with my youngest grandson and I thought he must be advising him how to throw a line. They seemed little then, but Ryan seemed so mature. When my grandsons came in after fishing, the oldest said, "Ryan is really a nice person, and my youngest said, "his hair is really red! We talked with them about his fishing in Alaska, they were impressed. My oldest grandson passed away in 2008, perhaps Ryan is giving some fishing lessons to Juan Manuel. My prayers and love to the entire Blair Family from your neighbors who you all very much.

“ My first memory of my precious baby boy is in Kettering Hospital 22 Feb. 1994. after waiting not a very long time at all, Ryan Curtis Blair made his entrance into our world. I could not have been any prouder. He already had a beautiful head of bright red hair. His mother and I felt very blessed to have a healthy son and for our daughter Meagan a wonderful baby brother. The two of them made an instant bond and it has remained throughout their lives. You brought so much joy to my life, from the way you held you "blankie" and just looked and observed the world, to your compassion and kindness to others when someone your age wasn't expected to act that way. It isn't fair, your time with us was much too short and I am hanging onto the promise that we will get to see each other once again on the other side. I love you Ryan with all of my heart and soul. I have memories now of you my precious boy to last until I get to see you and hold you again.

I remember sitting in your office when Heidi walked in with balloons that said "its a boy!" No words can explain how sorry I am for your loss of that gorgeous, intelligent red-head boy.
