“ I had meant to comment on this last year when I saw it, how very untimely and sad it is to hear of his passing. Too young. We were neighbors as children, our Mothers were friends, Nancy babysat us and we also knew his aunt and uncle down the street, spent a lot of time together. We moved and things changed, we all lost contact. Tommy did not have an easy, care free early childhood that any child deserves, due to that I don't think he felt good about himself as a child, good kid though, he was kind, a trait a lot kids don't have, he did no harm, I think he got that from Nancy. I'm relieved and happy to read he found love and many joy filled things later in his life. I saw him again through mutual acquaintances around 2009 and I didn't recognize Tommy, he seemed to have outgrown the past, as we all should. His peace on earth, with good people around him, was well deserved. I'm certain he has peace in heaven or the great beyond now. Condolences to his wife, his sister Sheila and his other loved ones.

“ Although I had not had the pleasure of meeting Tom in person, I know that Lisa loved him beyond measure and I feel like I got to know him through her. The love they shared was both everlasting and complete. He was a loving man, and it was evident that he was loved by all those that knew him. My prayers and thoughts go out to Lisa and Toms family for this unmeasureable loss to their lives. May God hold him in His arms until they are brought together again.
